At a meeting held in Smithdeal Hall yesterday morning the men who supply Richmond with milk were conservative and kept at all times within the bounds of propriety, but it was easy to see that they have been considerably wrought up over the recent action of the Richmond health authorities, President Bellwood, in his opening address, though disclaiming any purpose whatsoever to form a milk trust, declared in somewhat vigorous language that the dairymen and the milk sellers had been abused, attacked and threatened by the health authorities, and that an association for protection against this kind of treatment was an absolute necessity. The president was applauded by the forty or fifty dairymen who heard his remarks, and it was plain that the milk sellers are determined to look out for No. 1.

The association elected a corps of officers, adopted the outlines of a constitution, to be filled up in the near fifture, passed strong resolutions, and dijourned to meet again when the officers deem a session necessary.

President's Address.

In opening the meeting yesterday Mr. Bellwood made a short speech, in which, among other things, he said:

"We are here to-day to organize ourselves into an association for our own protection. Pure, wholesome milk is the question before us to-day, and we want the citizens of Richmond to know that it is our endeavor to give them the purest product produced.

"We don't desire to form a milk trust. We don't intend to increase the price of milk; but we do want the people of Richmond to know that they are getting the best product, free from adulteration.

"We can bear so much and no more, and I thinks we have borne enough. Now is the time for us to act, and by concerted action check the unjust accusations of the health officers. We have spent thousands of dollars in the production of milk, and we must not be subjected to such criticism. We want to work in harmony with the officials."

After the applause which followed here had subsided, Mr. Bellwood continued. "The worm trodden upon will turn again, and a milkman is a very superior kind, of a yorm. We are being imposed on and we will not Prohibition Effective and Salu

Governor Swanson was invited to appear before the board to explain to that body the proposed establishment of a school journal, in which much space will be devoted to the discussion of introducing the study of agriculture in the county schools of the State. The Governor thought such a journal as it was the purpose to publish would be of great benefit to the educational interests of the State. He said that there had been necessity for a long time of an educational journal in Virginia to aid the educational pournal in Virginia to aid the educational movement, not only in the public schools and colleges, but also in agriculture.

The resolutions were as follows:

The Hollywood Memorial Association desires to place upon record its deep appreciation of the services of its former president, Mrs. Lewis N. Webb, as well as to express to her bereaved family the heartfelt sympathy of every member of an organization which in large measure owes its unbroken existence to her faithfulness. When first the boom of cannon censed to sound, the women of the land could but mourn for their dark days nothing else left to do. With the return of some measure of vitality, came the stern necessity of providing for the living. tunities possible for the tender sentiments that linger around our graves.

It was at this critical period that the faithful few, with the clear vision of those inspired by the lottiest patriotism, struggled to keep green the memorles of those who had fallen in a sacred cause, and to show by precept and example, that it were better to let the grass grow in streets than the weeds and brambles rio over the heroes' graves.

To no one person is the existence of the Hollywood Association, through those troublous times, so truly due as to Mrs. Webb. It was her untiring zoal that kept alive the faith of the little handful, who yearly assembled on Memorial Day and gave volce to their undving love for the cause, their unquenchable determination to wrest from the nation at large an acknowledgment of its justice. Now that this purpose is accomplished, let us do all honor to her who keept up the struggle at its darkest hour, when to those around it hardly seemed worth while.
